1. All the rhinoceroses

Counting one-horned rhinos in Kaziranga National Park, home to nearly two-thirds of the world's population of the 'vulnerable' species, is no easy task. Rahul Karmakar reports on the unique challenges faced by the officials in the recently concluded census.

2. Forging a culture of innovation

India's innovation policy has to shift beyond a mere focus on R&D spending to transforming the ecosystem.

3. Mutual respect is the key

Instead of demanding an 'India First' approach, Delhi must affirm support for 'Nepal First' policy.

4. Healthy India, happy India

On World Health Day, government must redouble efforts to provide quality healthcare, people must make lifestyle changes.

The quality of life in a country can be best gauged by its education and health indicators. In fact, they are a measure of the country's progress. Since Independence, India has done reasonably well on the education front, though we could have done better.

5. How Donald Trump's trade policy will affect India

In a world where trade success will be built not on rules but on relationships, India has distinct advantages.
